Public Advisory for Election Information Security

Board of Election offices across the State and across America are working with Local, State and Federal Information Security agencies to safeguard your vote.

As registered voters you play a very important role in the defense of our Election rights.

If you have been or feel you might be a victim of identity theft, visit your Local Board of Elections Office and verify your registration information

Exercise your right to vote regularly and do not let anyone discourage you from voting. Take the opportunity to vote in the Primaries. Should you encounter an issue and are told your registered information is not correct or you have been reported as already voted, contact your Board of Elections Office.

On Election Day, always verify Social Media information with a trusted news source. If reports of problems with your local election polling place surfaces on Social Media, contact your Board of Elections to determine if that information is accurate.
