For the Law Enforcement Review Committee,

The crux of the police problem is the serious power imbalance between citizen and cop, and a lack of accountability due to inadequate supervision by both line officers and officials of employing municipalities.

The Governor's EO147 is not working and probably was not intended to work. It's political theater.

The Attorney General's office (and SIPU) has ignored some cases and in others has relied on seriously flawed investigations which produced prejudicial findings to clear police officers of misconduct. The NY State Police (Collision Reconstruction Units), local District Attorney Offices, and governing bodies are complicit.

Two Schoharie County cases documenting these failures are analyzed here: <https://scfpg.blogspot.com/p/camp-homicide.html> and <https://scfpg.blogspot.com/p/gerard-roldan-homicide.html>

There has been no disciplinary action taken in either of the above cases - or if there has been a lack of transparency has deprived the county and village citizens of this knowledge.
